

EXPEDITION OF THE HEART BASE CAMP

One bad driver.

That's all it takes. Before you know it, you're overtaken with rage.
Where did that come from?

One nagging addiction.

You wish you could quit, but you just keep giving in.
Why can't you stop?

One more promotion.

It's all you need. Then you can finally have the life you've wanted.
Why isn't it enough?

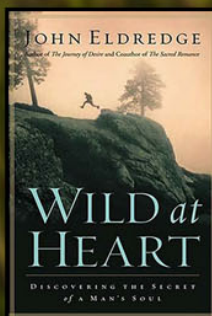

Each of us has a heart that contains all our desires and longings.
What if we could somehow understand that heart?
What implications would it have for our lives?

For our relationships?
For the world around us?

It could change everything.

One group of men. One journey. An Expedition of the Heart.
